

Special Needs Child Care

Increasing and improving the care available to children with special needs

If you are the parent of a child with physical, learning, health or behavioral problems it may be especially difficult to find child care. Through Starting Point, help is available. Special Needs Child Care can help you find a caring, helpful child care setting with understanding teachers and expert support so your child will learn and grow.

We'll bring together a team of community agencies to work with your child's teacher. We'll make certain the teacher understands your child's needs and has equipment and activities that are right for your child. We'll also work with you and the teacher on matters that affect your child's care. Special Needs Child Care will help your child to be his or her best, whatever the physical, health or emotional difficulties may be.
